

LMS POWER
The 'Coronation' class
Edward Talbot

The streamlined Pacifics of the London Midland & Scottish Railway were amongst the most outstanding of all British steam locomotives. Their style and design captured the imagination and set them apart from everyday engines. In the public mind they ranked equally with the streamlined 'A4' class of the London & North Eastern Railway, and when one was displayed at the New York World's Fair in 1939, they became famous all over the world, as one of a small number of elite streamlined designs along with the New York Central Railroad's 'J3a' class Hudsons, and the Milwaukee Road's 'Hiawatha' Atlantics and Hudsons in the USA.

This new book is a celebration in photographs of these magnificent machines and will give pleasure to all their many admirers. It contains 96 pages with 160 black and white photographs, and 8 pages of colour, featuring superb paintings by Gerald Broom, Tom Connell and Barry G. Price.

It is a companion volume to The Coronation Scot, the Streamlined Era on the LMS, published in 2002, which described the train, the locomotives and the carriages, and the whole venture of the LMS into streamlining.

Publication is expected in late November. The price of the book is £25 and orders on this form will be dispatched post free by surface mail (for air-mail overseas please add £8).
